

Two Lecturer Positions

Department of Mathematics and Statistics
2300 Engineering and Computational Sciences Building
Old Dominion University
4700 Elkhorn Avenue
Norfolk, Virginia 23529

Applications are invited for two full-time Lecturer positions in the Department of Mathematics and Statistics at Old Dominion University with duties to begin July 25, 2020. Each successful candidate will have a Master's degree in mathematics, statistics, or a related field, excellent pedagogical and communication skills, experience in teaching college mathematics or statistics at the freshman and sophomore levels, and the ability to teach via distance learning formats as well as in conventional classrooms. The ability to interact with students in computer science and familiarity with emerging area of data science is desirable. Information regarding the Department may be obtained at <http://odu.edu/math/>.

Interested individuals should apply electronically at <https://jobs.odu.edu/>, and submit a letter of interest, a copy of curriculum vitae, graduate school transcripts, a teaching statement and three professional references. Review of the applications will begin on February 17, 2020 and continue until the positions are filled.

ODU and the College of Sciences are committed to inclusive excellence, recognizing that diversity enhances and enriches our educational mission, employment experience, and community engagement. We seek candidates whose research, teaching, and/or service experiences have prepared them to fulfill our commitment to inclusion. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, gender, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, national origin, genetics, disability, age, or veteran status.